Landing a Muskie

Milwaukee Road Vacations in the Land of Big Woods and Many Waters

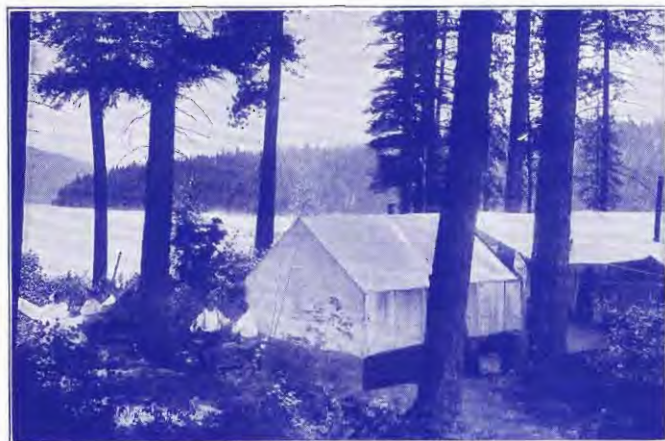

For variety of attractions, wilderness beauty, ease of access and economy of cost, the finest, most satisfactory vacation land in all the Middle West is undoubtedly that great stretch of fragrant pine forests and shimmering blue waters in Northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Although not far away, it has all of the wild charm and seclusion of remoter regions. And while its excellent fishing is perhaps its most noted attraction, it is ideal for canoeing, boating, swimming, horseback riding, hiking and camping. Near many of the towns and larger resorts good golf courses are available, and facilities for tennis are to be found almost everywhere.

Not the least factor in the popularity of this alluring land is the wide range of accommodations. Every purse can be suited at resort hotels, private cottages or cabins, or in lakeside tents far from beaten paths. Add to this the remarkably quick and convenient train service of The Milwaukee Road—from Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and intermediate points—and you have the ideal summer vacationland.

An Ideal Retreat

THE FISHERMAN'S PARADISE

Trite as is "fisherman's paradise," no other expression adequately describes the waters of Northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The area contains more than 500,000 acres of rippled blue lakes, large and small, and countless rivers and streams crisscross the entire territory. No wise angler need ever return disappointed from these far-spreading haunts of hungry, fighting fish.

King of battlers, perhaps, is the tigerish muskellunge, which is always ready to give the fisherman a struggle and a thrill. And yet for fighting fury in proportion to weight, there are many who will award the palm to the belligerent black bass which, in these waters, often attains five or six pounds in weight and is a delicious table fish. Pike and pickerel are everywhere and provide good sport. In some of the colder, more dashing streams the trout lurks, and in a few of the big deep lakes the land-locked salmon is found.

While it is wise to take your own tackle, equipment of every sort can be rented at most of the fishing grounds, together with bait, boats, canoes and camping outfits. Experienced guides are also available.

An Alluring Spot

The End of a Perfect Day

Delightful Inexpensive Outings for the Family

Whether or not your family shares your enthusiasm for fishing, there is unlimited recreation and adventure for each member of these clean, fragrant and beautiful lake-lands and woodlands. Their days will be filled with wholesome, invigorating activity, although one who wants to loaf and rest will never find more charming places.

Hiking or horseback riding along the enchanting woodland trails; canoeing through endless waterways discovered by Indians and French voyageurs; swimming, rowing, sailing, motor-boating, tennis, dancing—these are the most popular activities. Small fees permit the visitor to play on many club golf courses.

Excellent hotels and resorts with their social life, cottages, cabins or wilderness camps offer choice of luxury or plain comfort, and the range of prices makes it easy to choose accommodations that fit your vacation budget. Then, too, there are well managed boys' and girls' camps. With your family settled in hotel or cozy cottage, Milwaukee Road train service makes it easy to join them each week-end, enjoy a day or two of your favorite fishing, and get back to business with little or no loss of time.

Milwaukee Road Train Service Makes These Vacation Lands Easy to Reach

Each spring and summer Milwaukee Road train service to Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan is revised and supplemented especially to suit the needs of vacationists and fisherman.

From Chicago and Milwaukee "The Tomahawk," an all-year train, runs daily to Northern Wisconsin vacation lands and this service is supplemented during the spring and summer season by another noted train—"The Fisherman." Both trains carry through sleeping cars and coaches and dining cars serving those delectable meals by Rector, the famous Broadway restaurateur. Connecting motor buses provide transportation to resorts not reached by the railroad. There is also through service from St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Upper Michigan Country is served the year 'round from Chicago and Milwaukee by "The Copper Country Limited," with through sleeping cars, coaches, and dining car service.

Ever improving its facilities for its patrons, The Milwaukee Road is constructing at Woodruff (formerly Woodruff Junction) in the Northern Wisconsin vacation realm, an attractive new station of the log-cabin type for the convenience of travelers and shippers. This new station, which has a commodious waiting room, smoking room, and ticket office, as well as freight and express facilities, will be open about June 1, 1930.

LOW ROUND TRIP SUMMER FARES

From May to September reduced excursion fares are in effect from most points to the resorts and fishing grounds listed in this folder. Some are good for return over week-ends, some have thirty-day limits, and others are good until October 31st. In addition, special round-trip fares are usually authorized for certain holidays, such as May 30th and July 4th.

Any Milwaukee Road representative listed on page 13 of this folder, or any ticket agent will gladly give you additional information about Northern Wisconsin or Upper Michigan. Their knowledge will be helpful to you in selecting the most suitable place and making reservations—and our representatives will even (in Chicago) procure your fishing license. Let these men assist you in arranging a thoroughly enjoyable outing in the Land of Big Woods and Many Waters.

Directory of Resorts and Hotels Upper Michigan and Eastern Wisconsin

With its bounty of legend and history, with its glorious woods and waters, the Upper Peninsula today ranks with the greatest of America's vacation-lands.

Midst perfect surroundings one can enjoy fishing and other sports to his heart's content. For those who like to camp and hike through the woodlands, this Northland Paradise indeed is an alluring spot. For those who take to swimming and boating the lakes provide opportunity for full enjoyment of their favorite sports. And for the golfer, fine courses, located at various parts of the Peninsula, challenge the best he has in the way of shot making.

The information as to hotel and boarding house rates and accommodations is compiled from the most reliable sources available, but the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad does not guarantee its correctness, nor against changes made after its issue.
